

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXI.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1907.

8 Pages

NO. 27

We have everything that is advertised.

MONSTER

Remember the place
and time.

CLOSING OUT SALE

$10,000 Worth of Winter Merchandise

At sacrificing prices, consisting of

Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Shoes

Must be sold in 18 days. Everything in the store must clear out

Sale Begins Wednesday, January 16,

at 8 a. m., and closes Saturday, February 2. Only 18 days

Our Guarantee: We assure each and every purchaser absolute satisfaction. We guarantee every garment, every piece of goods exactly as represented, and will take back, exchange or refund your money on any purchase unsatisfactory for any reason whatever

REMEMBER, this stock consists entirely of NEW MERCHANDISE all bought this season, representing some of the foremost manufacturers in the United States, to be sold at 33 cents on the dollar. You will find in every department of our store as good assortment as we had at the beginning of the season. This is not a sale of old goods, but all new and up-to-date.

Follow the crowd and you will find the right place

And you can truthfully say that you have been to one of the greatest value-giving sales in the history of this section of Kentucky. EVERY ARTICLE IN THE HOUSE ON SALE. NOTHING RESERVED.

Below we quote you a few of the many thousands of bargains to be had. This will convey to you some ideas of the marvelous bargains that may be expected. All goods will be marked in plain figures and one price to all.

18 Days Sale Opens WEDNESDAY, January 16. Remember the Date.	LOOK! LOOK! Men's Suits, well tailored, actual value $6.00, our price $2.75. Men's Suits, beautiful patterns, actual value $7.00, our price $3.45. Men's Suits, all wool, newest designs, value $10, our price $4.97. Men's Suits, fine blocks and fancy colors, tailored kind, actual value $12.50, now $6.43. Men's Suits, close fitting collars and self-retaining fronts, actual value $16.50, now $8.87. Men's Suits, finest quality wool, stripes and plaids in silk mixtures, actual value $20, our price $9.73. Men's Suits—your choice of any in the store, worth $22.50 and $25.00, at $11.45 Boys' and Young Men's Suits. Long Pants, 3-piece Suits, age 15-20, actual values, $4.50, $6.00, $8.50 and $10, go at $1.97, $3.42, $4.73 and $5.95. Heavy Covert working Coats, rubberized, worth $2.00, now 98c. Rubber Boots, snag proof, worth $3.85, for $3.00 Men's all rubber Articles, worth $1.50, for $1.18 Boys' Knee Pants, worth 35c, for 18c. One lot Corduroy Pants, worth $1.50, for 98c. One lot Jeans Pants, worth $1.50, for 72c.	Men's Overcoats. Now is the time when you need them and just think what bargains you can get if you attend this great Sale. Men's heavy Overcoats, full length, value $5.00, at $1.95. Men's Overcoats, different colors, value $9 and $10, at $4.62. Men's Overcoats, all wool, black and fancy, long belt kind, actual value, $12.50 and $15, at $7.87. Men's Overcoats, choicest patterns, finest all wool, plain or with belt, actual value $15, at $9.95. Men's Overcoats, your choice of any in store, worth $22.50 and $25, at $11.45. LOOK! LOOK! CHILDREN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS at less than 1-2 price on any in store. MEN'S PANTS. Worsted Pants, actual value $1.25, at 73c. Pants worth $1.75, at $1.05. Wool Pants, worth $2.50, at $1.47. Dress Pants, worth $3.50, at $1.93. Fine Pants, worth $5.00, at $2.48.	MEN'S FURNISHINGS. Large Handkerchiefs at 21c. Fancy Handkerchiefs, worth 10c, at 4c. Heavy Socks, sale price 4c. Fancy Socks, worth 15c, at 7c. Fancy Socks, worth 25c, at 14c. Fancy Socks, worth 35c, at 19c. Suspenders, worth 20c, at 7c. Suspenders, worth 35c, at 19c. Collars, worth 15c, at 8c. Rubber Collars, sale price 12c. Overalls, 50c and 75c kind, 38c. Heavy work Skirts, 50c kind, 38c. Heavy Underwear, 50c and 75c kind, at 38c. Heavy Underwear, 35c kind, at 19c. Sweaters, 75c kind, at 38c. Sweaters, $1.25 kind, at 75c. Sweaters, $2.00 kind, at $1.05. Fancy Shirts, 75c kind, at 37c. Dress Shirts, $1.25 and $1.50 kind, at 87c. Ties, worth 50c, at 19c. Ties, worth 75c, at 38c. Umbrellas, 75c kind, at 38c. Umbrellas, $1.50 kind, at 79c. Men's and Ladies' Shoes. Shoes worth $1.50 at 92c. Shoes worth $2.00, at $1.23. Shoes worth $2.50 at $1.47. Shoes worth $3.00, at $1.93. Boys' and Young Men's Overcoats Must be closed out at less than 40c on the $1.	18 Days Sale Closes SATURDAY, February 2. Remember the Date.
---	---	---	--	---

Bear in mind there are thousands of articles we cannot mention here. Bring this paper with you and you can see we sell strictly as advertised.

Look for the Big Red Signs. Strictly One Price to all.

Sale Begins at 8 a. m. Sharp WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16.
Look For the Blue Pencil Mark on Every Article in the House.

SHAPINSKY BROS.,

Sale Begins Wednesday, Jan. 16

CLOVERPORT, - KENTUCKY.

Look For the Blue Pencil Mark

Partners of the Tide

By...
JOSEPH C.
LINCOLN,
Author of "Cap'n Eli"

Copyright, 1905, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

Bradley picked up his bundle and had brought it in with him and slipped out of the side door, presenting himself a moment later in the glory of his new clothes to the critical gaze of the old maids.

When Bradley started for school the next day his head was ringing with instructions from the old maids concerning his behavior and attention to his studies.

"Now, be a good boy, Bradley," said Miss Trisley.

"Yes, Bradley," said Miss Tempy. "Remember, we expect a great deal of you. All our people have been smart scholars."

"Just as he turned into the main hall he heard some one calling and turned to see his acquaintance of yesterday, the girl next door, running to catch up, her hood slipped back from her hair and it showed his pull in her hand. Being a girl, Gus carried her nose luncheon during the winter months instead of coming home to eat it.

On the way to school they met another girl, whom Gus introduced as Clara Hopkins, a cousin of hers. "She's the tip-top. I sit with her," she got most as many checks as I have," was her recommendation.

Upraisals at the schoolhouse was a large room, with rows of double desks on each side and a wide aisle in the center. One side of the aisle was the girls' side, and the other was for the boys. Mr. Daniels stiffly shook hands with the new scholar, asked him some questions concerning his progress in his studies and showed him where he should sit. The more advanced pupils occupied the desks at the rear of the room, and the younger ones—Bradley among them—sat in front. Bradley's seat mate was an older boy than he, rather good looking, with curly hair. His name, so he whispered before school began, was Sam Hammond.

At recess Bradley went out on the playground for a little while, but he felt rather lonesome among so many strangers and so returned to the school room. It was empty, the teacher taking his customary "constitutional" in the yard. After a few minutes Gus came bounding in.

"Why, Brad," she exclaimed, "where've you been? I've been looking for you. Why didn't you come on out?"

"Oh, I don't know," replied the boy. "I don't know any of the fellows yet."

"Well, you've got to know 'em. Oh, my goodness! What a mess!"

The stub tatted dot panting at her feet, three inches of red tongue hanging from his mouth.

"You naughty, naughty dog!" cried this almost in tears. "How dare you! Go home this instant!"

"Go home," cried the scorned Bradley, coming to the rescue.

Winfield had gone home by the school route already that morning and didn't propose to do it again. When the mistress tried to catch him he retreated to a safe distance and wagged his tail.

"Oh, what shall we do?" wailed Gus. "He won't leave me alone!"

He was a good deal of a coward, but he dashed into the closet which was between the doors, and hid behind the wood box.

"Now," said Gus excitedly, "you watch that he don't get out, and I'll crawl in after him. Oh, my goodness, there's Mr. Daniels coming now!"

The cowardly nature of the teacher were heard on the stairs. Bradley, in desperation, shut the closet door upon the imprisoned Winfield. Mr. Daniels stepped to the rope in the entry and gave it a pull. The bell above responded with a staccato note, and the scholars began to pour up the stairs.

"We will come to order," commanded the teacher, Bradley, glancing across the aisle at Gus, saw that she was as white as the whitewashed wall.

"First class in arithmetic," said Mr. Daniels, and then from the closet came a loud, dismal wailing. The first class in arithmetic stopped in its tracks and looked aghast. The whole school, with two exceptions, picked up its ears. The exception trembled.

"I'm worse now," came from the closet. Mr. Daniels strode across the floor and opened the door.

"No dog is this!" he demanded sternly.

"None answered."

"Come out of that!" commanded the teacher savagely. He reached behind the wood box and, setting the cowering Winfield by the scruff of the neck, tossed him into the room. "Whose dog is this?" he repeated.

Most of the scholars knew whose dog it was, but none of them told.

"I asked a question!" thundered the master. "Who put that—that creature in the closet?"

Into the room when 'twas recess, and we—I tried to put him out, and he wouldn't go.

"So you shut him in the closet. Brilliant youth! As this is your first day here, I suppose I must stretch a point and believe in your case on purpose. If it had been any other of the scholars I should have made an example of you. I am surprised that you should treat your little brother" (appreciatively) "better from the school" "in such a manner. You may put him out."

It was easy enough to command, but not so easy to do. The dog, frightened at the crowd, looked away when Bradley approached.

"Come here, Winfield," said the boy, his face a bright crimson. The school giggled at the name.

"Winfield," repeated Mr. Daniels. "Why that name, if you please?"

"I—I don't know, sir."

"No, sir?" And then the boy had a happy thought. "It's named after General Hancock, I guess."

General Winfield Scott Hancock, in his role of statesman, was very much in the public eye just at this time.

Mr. Daniels hesitated. He more than suspected the dog's real name, but he wasn't certain, and being a weak man was afraid of making a mistake.

"Well, put the creature out!" he snarled, and then, losing his temper, he aimed a kick at the dog. He commanded, "Get out, you brute!"

That kick was a mistake. Winfield wasn't used to kicks, and this one scattered his shaggy senses completely.

He started on a panicky, yelping flight, hotly pursued by Bradley. Down the side of the "boys' side," across the back of the room among the feet of the "first class in arithmetic" and up the "girls' side" sped the chase.

At the end of the second lap the entire school was in an uproar. Mr. Daniels, white with rage, took a hand in the pursuit, and his efforts and those of two or three more volunteers only made matters worse.

At length the dog, hemmed in on both sides, hesitated in the middle of the broad aisle. Suddenly he darted toward the closet once more.

Mr. Daniels leaped to intercept him, struck the stool upon which the bucket of drinking water was placed and sprawled upon the floor in the center of a miniature forest, while Winfield, leaping over him, darted through the entry and down the stairs, a shrieking maniac.

The dripping Mr. Daniels was physically cool, but mentally very warm indeed. "Check," was distributed with liberality and two boys were "ferreled" before 12 o'clock came.

One of these sufferers was Bradley's seat mate, Sam Hammond.

Bradley went home alone. When the old maids asked him innumerable questions concerning how he "got along" at school he hesitantly answered, "All right," and gave no details. Miss Trisley was somewhat worried at his silence and confided to her sister the fear that he had been "struck" by the dog.

"He was a good deal of a coward, but he dashed into the closet which was between the doors, and hid behind the wood box."

"Now," said Gus excitedly, "you watch that he don't get out, and I'll crawl in after him. Oh, my goodness, there's Mr. Daniels coming now!"

The cowardly nature of the teacher were heard on the stairs. Bradley, in desperation, shut the closet door upon the imprisoned Winfield. Mr. Daniels stepped to the rope in the entry and gave it a pull. The bell above responded with a staccato note, and the scholars began to pour up the stairs.

"We will come to order," commanded the teacher, Bradley, glancing across the aisle at Gus, saw that she was as white as the whitewashed wall.

"First class in arithmetic," said Mr. Daniels, and then from the closet came a loud, dismal wailing. The first class in arithmetic stopped in its tracks and looked aghast. The whole school, with two exceptions, picked up its ears. The exception trembled.

"I'm worse now," came from the closet. Mr. Daniels strode across the floor and opened the door.

"No dog is this!" he demanded sternly.

"None answered."

"Come out of that!" commanded the teacher savagely. He reached behind the wood box and, setting the cowering Winfield by the scruff of the neck, tossed him into the room. "Whose dog is this?" he repeated.

Most of the scholars knew whose dog it was, but none of them told.

"I asked a question!" thundered the master. "Who put that—that creature in the closet?"

Bradley looked at his fellow conspirator. Then he held up his hand. "I did," he said.

"Mr. Daniels' mouth opened in surprise. New pupils did not usually begin in this way."

"You did?" he gasped.

"Yes, sir. If I—I mean he came

Into the room when 'twas recess, and we—I tried to put him out, and he wouldn't go.

"So you shut him in the closet. Brilliant youth! As this is your first day here, I suppose I must stretch a point and believe in your case on purpose. If it had been any other of the scholars I should have made an example of you. I am surprised that you should treat your little brother" (appreciatively) "better from the school" "in such a manner. You may put him out."

It was easy enough to command, but not so easy to do. The dog, frightened at the crowd, looked away when Bradley approached.

"Come here, Winfield," said the boy, his face a bright crimson. The school giggled at the name.

"Winfield," repeated Mr. Daniels. "Why that name, if you please?"

"I—I don't know, sir."

"No, sir?" And then the boy had a happy thought. "It's named after General Hancock, I guess."

General Winfield Scott Hancock, in his role of statesman, was very much in the public eye just at this time.

Mr. Daniels hesitated. He more than suspected the dog's real name, but he wasn't certain, and being a weak man was afraid of making a mistake.

"Well, put the creature out!" he snarled, and then, losing his temper, he aimed a kick at the dog. He commanded, "Get out, you brute!"

That kick was a mistake. Winfield wasn't used to kicks, and this one scattered his shaggy senses completely.

He started on a panicky, yelping flight, hotly pursued by Bradley. Down the side of the "boys' side," across the back of the room among the feet of the "first class in arithmetic" and up the "girls' side" sped the chase.

At the end of the second lap the entire school was in an uproar. Mr. Daniels, white with rage, took a hand in the pursuit, and his efforts and those of two or three more volunteers only made matters worse.

At length the dog, hemmed in on both sides, hesitated in the middle of the broad aisle. Suddenly he darted toward the closet once more.

Mr. Daniels leaped to intercept him, struck the stool upon which the bucket of drinking water was placed and sprawled upon the floor in the center of a miniature forest, while Winfield, leaping over him, darted through the entry and down the stairs, a shrieking maniac.

The dripping Mr. Daniels was physically cool, but mentally very warm indeed. "Check," was distributed with liberality and two boys were "ferreled" before 12 o'clock came.

One of these sufferers was Bradley's seat mate, Sam Hammond.

Bradley went home alone. When the old maids asked him innumerable questions concerning how he "got along" at school he hesitantly answered, "All right," and gave no details. Miss Trisley was somewhat worried at his silence and confided to her sister the fear that he had been "struck" by the dog.

"He was a good deal of a coward, but he dashed into the closet which was between the doors, and hid behind the wood box."

"Now," said Gus excitedly, "you watch that he don't get out, and I'll crawl in after him. Oh, my goodness, there's Mr. Daniels coming now!"

The cowardly nature of the teacher were heard on the stairs. Bradley, in desperation, shut the closet door upon the imprisoned Winfield. Mr. Daniels stepped to the rope in the entry and gave it a pull. The bell above responded with a staccato note, and the scholars began to pour up the stairs.

"We will come to order," commanded the teacher, Bradley, glancing across the aisle at Gus, saw that she was as white as the whitewashed wall.

"First class in arithmetic," said Mr. Daniels, and then from the closet came a loud, dismal wailing. The first class in arithmetic stopped in its tracks and looked aghast. The whole school, with two exceptions, picked up its ears. The exception trembled.

"I'm worse now," came from the closet. Mr. Daniels strode across the floor and opened the door.

"No dog is this!" he demanded sternly.

"None answered."

"Come out of that!" commanded the teacher savagely. He reached behind the wood box and, setting the cowering Winfield by the scruff of the neck, tossed him into the room. "Whose dog is this?" he repeated.

Most of the scholars knew whose dog it was, but none of them told.

"I asked a question!" thundered the master. "Who put that—that creature in the closet?"

Bradley looked at his fellow conspirator. Then he held up his hand. "I did," he said.

"Mr. Daniels' mouth opened in surprise. New pupils did not usually begin in this way."

"You did?" he gasped.

"Yes, sir. If I—I mean he came

Mr. Daniels tripped.

"I'll make you snivel worse 'n you did in school this mornin'."

"I followed her to school one day, in huge disgust, 'fore I'd take that!" The Hammond boy did not really want to fight, but, thus goaded, he suddenly gave Bradley a violent push with both hands. The next instant both youngsters were clasped tightly together, grappling each other about the neck and wrestling savagely. In a moment they fell with a thump and rolled over and over, pounding, kicking and scratching. The snow flow, and the crowd whooped and pushed and strained to see better.

Then there was a rush, a frightened scurry, both combatants were pulled apart and jerked to their feet, while Mr. Daniels, holding each by the coat collar, glared down upon them

"You may come off me, he said, with chilling calmness."

The scene in the schoolroom that followed was brief, but exciting. Bradley held out his hand and bit his lip stubbornly while the ferule descended—now, twelve times.

"There," said the teacher. "Now you may take your seat. For a new scholar you begin extremely well now, Sammel!"

The Hammond hand having received its share of beating and its owner also sent to his seat, Mr. Daniels said: "Both of you will lose your afternoon recess. I shall also give each of you a note, telling of your punishment, to take home."

At half past 4 that afternoon Bradley, with the note tightly clasped in his hand, walked dismally up the walk to the Alps back door. The thought that he had disgraced himself forever in the eyes of his protectors burned like a fire under his new cap; also there was a bitter feeling that Gus, the cause of all his trouble, had not been near him to console or aid pardon.

It was typical of the boy that he had not thought of destroying the note. He handed it to Miss Trisley the moment he opened the door. She read it and sat heavily down in the china rocker.

"My soul and body!" she wailed. "Tenny! Allee, come here this minute! Here, for mercy's sake, read this!"

Miss Tempy's agitation was even more marked than that of her sister. "Oh, oh, oh!" she cried, waving the condemning sheet of paper like a distress signal. "How could you? How could you? I don't bive a relation of the Allee's was ever whipped in school before. What shall we do, Prissy? And his first day too!"

Bradley, with dreadful thoughts of self destruction in his mind, twisted his new cap in his hand, but said nothing.

"He says you were foolish and there was something else," said Miss Trisley. "Tell the whole story now—every word."

The boy began slowly. He told of shutting the dog in the closet, but he was interrupted by the older sister, who demanded to know whose dog it was.

"Whose was it?" she asked. "Why don't you answer? Don't you know?"

"Yes'm."

"Then whose was it?"

Bradley shifted his feet uneasily on the mat.

"I ain't goin' to tell," he muttered sulkily.

"Ain't goin' to tell? Why, I nev'—"

She was interrupted. The door behind Bradley flew open, and Gus appeared, fearful, but determined.

"Miss Trisley and Miss Tempy," she began, "don't you scold Bradley—don't you, now, a bit! It was all my fault, every mile of it. Oh, dear, dear!"

And, with sobs and amid the ejaculations of the astonished sisters, she told

(Continued next week.)

GO TO B. F. BEARD & CO.'S

And get in on the New Year Bargains they are offering to their customers. Some new attraction each week, with prices away below par, while the goods are as much above. Winter is swiftly passing by, and with it must go our various lines of Winter Goods. Here are some that are going at a great sacrifice, but nevertheless they must go, and we are reducing the price of them very materially in order that they may go while they will do our customers the most good, and be in keeping with the season, and return value received.

10c	FLANNELETTES AT PER YARD.	8c	Mid-Winter Clearance Sale of Furs.
15c	FLANNELETTES AT PER YARD	11c	75c	Furs GO AT	50c	$3 25 Furs GO AT $2 44
2	PIECES FLANNELETTES REGULAR 25c VALUES AT PER YARD.	11c	$1 25	Furs GO AT	94c	$3 50 Furs GO AT $2 60
20c	AND 25c WOOLEN SUITINGS AT PER YARD.	13c	$1 50	Furs GO AT	$1 23	$5 00 Furs GO AT $3 75
	REGULAR LINE OF 25c NOV. ELTIES FOR	19c	$2 00	Furs GO AT	$1 50	Muffs.
1	PIECE JACQUARD DE SOI. ALL MERCERIZED. 40c VALUE AT	25c	$2 25	Furs GO AT	$1 70	$2 00 TO $5.00 MUFFS $1.50 TO $3 25
50c	PLAD. ALL WOOL WAISTINGS AT PER YARD.	38c	$3 00	Furs GO AT	$2 25	Come early and get your choice.
50c	WOOLEN SUITINGS. 36 AND 38 IN. WIDE AT PER YARD.	38c

Bargains all the year round, with goods A1. Hardinsburg Ky. B.F. BEARD & CO. Hardinsburg Ky.

"You may come off me," he said, with chilling calmness.

The scene in the schoolroom that followed was brief, but exciting. Bradley held out his hand and bit his lip stubbornly while the ferule descended—now, twelve times.

"There," said the teacher. "Now you may take your seat. For a new scholar you begin extremely well now, Sammel!"

The Hammond hand having received its share of beating and its owner also sent to his seat, Mr. Daniels said: "Both of you will lose your afternoon recess. I shall also give each of you a note, telling of your punishment, to take home."

At half past 4 that afternoon Bradley, with the note tightly clasped in his hand, walked dismally up the walk to the Alps back door. The thought that he had disgraced himself forever in the eyes of his protectors burned like a fire under his new cap; also there was a bitter feeling that Gus, the cause of all his trouble, had not been near him to console or aid pardon.

It was typical of the boy that he had not thought of destroying the note. He handed it to Miss Trisley the moment he opened the door. She read it and sat heavily down in the china rocker.

"My soul and body!" she wailed. "Tenny! Allee, come here this minute! Here, for mercy's sake, read this!"

Miss Tempy's agitation was even more marked than that of her sister. "Oh, oh, oh!" she cried, waving the condemning sheet of paper like a distress signal. "How could you? How could you? I don't bive a relation of the Allee's was ever whipped in school before. What shall we do, Prissy? And his first day too!"

Bradley, with dreadful thoughts of self destruction in his mind, twisted his new cap in his hand, but said nothing.

"He says you were foolish and there was something else," said Miss Trisley. "Tell the whole story now—every word."

The boy began slowly. He told of shutting the dog in the closet, but he was interrupted by the older sister, who demanded to know whose dog it was.

"Whose was it?" she asked. "Why don't you answer? Don't you know?"

"Yes'm."

"Then whose was it?"

Bradley shifted his feet uneasily on the mat.

"I ain't goin' to tell," he muttered sulkily.

"Ain't goin' to tell? Why, I nev'—"

She was interrupted. The door behind Bradley flew open, and Gus appeared, fearful, but determined.

"Miss Trisley and Miss Tempy," she began, "don't you scold Bradley—don't you, now, a bit! It was all my fault, every mile of it. Oh, dear, dear!"

And, with sobs and amid the ejaculations of the astonished sisters, she told

(Continued next week.)

An Abrupt Finale.

Joan Miller had just won recognition as the poet of the Sierras and was working on a paper in Oregon. He had been contributing verses and short stories and had just begun a tale about the soldiers on the frontier who suffered with scurvy. The editor wanted the scurvy story for the morning publication, but Joan Miller could not concentrate upon his work. His mind leaped to the anticipated joy of a social function occurring that evening.

For at this time he was a social lion. However, he had proceeded in his story to the point of the condition cure for the disease where all the soldiers suffering with scurvy had been buried, with only their heads exposed to view.

The editor was yelling "Copy." The poet's mind refused to work. He could not finish the tale, leaving his soldiers in such a plight. Suddenly an inspiration came to him. He grabbed his pencil and wrote rapidly the following words:

"And a she wolf came along and ate off all their heads." Then he made a bee line for the door and was not seen again until the next day. His story was not published.

he hangs by a string in the hall above the umbrella rack.

All the world knows the atmospheric effect on gingerbread. The slightest moisture makes it soft and soggy. In dry weather, on the contrary, it becomes brittle and hard.

Every morning, before starting for his office he asks his wife:

"What does the colonel say?"

The lady applies her thumb to the figure and answers:

"He feels flabby about the chest. Better take your umbrella!"

Or on the other hand, she will reply: "The colonel is hard and unyielding. If I were, I'd wear my new hat."

Minneapolis Journal.

Clear up the complexion, cleanse liver and tone the system. You can beat this by a dose or two of Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers. Safe, reliable little pills with a reputation. The pills that everyone knows. Recommended by all druggists.

The more discontented a man is with others the better satisfied he is with himself.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHERNEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cherney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligation made by him.

WALTON, DRUGGIST, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials free. Price, The pay bottle. Sold everywhere.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Gingerbread Tells The Weather.

He buys a fresh one every year—a fine, large, gingerbread colonel, which

Tutt's Pills

FOR TORPID LIVER.

A torpid liver deranges the whole system, and produces

SICK HEADACHE,

Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.

There is no better remedy for these common diseases than TUTT'S LIVER PILLS, as a trial will prove.

Take No Substitute.

Call at Preston's for the best flour.

February Deliverator at the News office.

Dr. Keene, of Owensboro, was here last week.

Call for the Lewisport flour on sale at O'Connell's.

Pratt sells Lewisport flour, the best in the market.

Mrs. Thos. Daniels is visiting relatives in Havesville.

Miss Ruth Haynes is the guest of friends in Rockport, Ind.

If there is anything you want in Havesville call at Babbs's in Oelze's big store.

Mrs. Wickliffe Deffen will leave this week for a visit to her parents in Texas.

Mrs. Eugene Haynes left yesterday for Durant, I. T., to spend several weeks.

There is no better flour on the market. It is made at Lewisport. Williams sells it.

Mrs. Chas. Kiel, of Kosmosdale, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Dell Hambleton.

Stuart Babbs went to Louisville Friday to accept a position with Belknap Bros.

Mrs. Fred Perry and daughter, Ann Murray, will return from Hardinsburg this week.

Mr. Roland Smith, of Stephensport, was here Thursday the guest of Mr. J. D. Babbs.

Thomas Heffner, of Skillman, has moved his family here and will farm for Mr. Ed Oglesby.

Mrs. James Skillman gave a candy pulling Friday evening in honor of her son, William White.

Morrison & Calhoun, dentists, office downstairs, 205 Fourth street, both phones, Owensboro, Ky.

Wagon breeding, horse collars, harness, trace-halms, back-bands, etc., at Babbs's in Oelze's big store.

There is a great demand for home-made work in Havesville. It wears longer, gives better satisfaction, than the machine-made article. You can only find it at Babbs's in the big store.

The installment of "Partners of the Tide," on the second page, gives an interesting account of Bradley Nickerson's entering school. He forms a friendship with Gus Baker, one of the school girls, which will possibly develop into the love affair of the story.

Loss of Flesh

When you can't eat breakfast, take Scott's Emulsion.

When you can't eat bread and butter, take Scott's Emulsion.

When you have been living on a milk diet and want something a little more nourishing, take Scott's Emulsion.

To get fat you must eat fat. Scott's Emulsion is a great fattener, a great strength giver.

Those who have lost flesh want to increase all body tissues, not only fat. Scott's Emulsion increases them all, bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

For invalids, for convalescents, for consumptives, for weak children, for all who need flesh, Scott's Emulsion is a rich and comfortable food, and a natural tonic.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

We will send you a free sample.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Scott's Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE,

CHIEF, 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

50c. and 31c. all druggists.

BUSINESS MEN

Threaten to Leave Havesville. Tax Rate Causing Much Complaint.

Havesville, Ky., Jan. 12.—At a meeting of the City Council of this place last night the tax rate for the city was fixed at seventy-five cents on the hundred, and they voted to raise their present salary to almost double of what it has heretofore been. The city has been getting $1,500 from three saloons; but as they have been voted out at this place, the Council is trying to raise the tax enough to offset this loss. The city can continue to have electric lights and water protection, but this does not explain the increase in salaries. The business men of the town are all making complaints and will have a meeting at once to see if anything can be done to reduce this levy and the salaries of the Councilmen who are at present getting more than was ever paid here before. Several business houses in town are already being advertised for sale, and it is reported to-day that several more will close unless something is done at once.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE

Will Be Built Soon Between Hardinsburg and Falls of Rough.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 15.—Special.—Col. L. E. Green, C. V. Robertson and J. M. Howard will build a telephone line from Falls of Rough via Glendale to Hardinsburg. The line will be a strong and substantial one and will furnish good service. Plans are being perfected to begin work on the line this spring.

A MOTHER WANTS

THE SALOONS CLOSED.

Tarfork, Ky., Jan. 13, 1907. Let our people help Cloverport to close the saloons. It is as much to our welfare as it is to the citizens of Cloverport. How often do we see our boys, the very blossom of our home, crazed with that awful demon, whiskey. Not only our boys but our husbands as well.

As a mother I greatly see the need of local opinion in Cloverport. Even men of 33 years of age, who have grown up sons, will go to Cloverport and come home drunk. My dear people and friends let us join heart and hands and try to help Cloverport close her saloons. Written by an interested mother.

MARDI GRAS AND

SOUTHERN RATES.

Mardi Gras, New Orleans, Pensacola and Mobile, Feb. 7, 12, 1907. For this occasion a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for round trip will be made from Cloverport to above named places, Feb. 6-11 good to return Feb. 16.

DUKES.

Most of the farmers here are done delivering tobacco.

Frank Johnson returned home Thursday on a visit to his relatives at Goring where he attended the wedding of his cousin, Miss Rena Powers to Mr. Enoch Taylor which took place last Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride.

Johnnie Johnson is reported to be improving at this writing.

Mrs. Rebecca Powers returned home Sunday after a visit of several months with relatives in Owensboro.

H. H. Tindle made a business trip to Patesville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beavin and daughter spent Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Beavin.

The A. S. of E. lodge met at the school house Wednesday night.

Isaac and Ronnie Powers, of Goring, attended the Debating society here Thursday night.

Miss Tula Lamb, of Patesville, spent Thursday night with Flora Newbury.

Hilous Basham made his regular trip to Goring Sunday evening.

Dick Slaughter and wife spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Mildred Nichols, of Patesville.

John Johnson spent Sunday with his brother, C. B. Johnson.

C. A. Walker is on the sick list.

L. C. Nubry spent Sunday with S. W. Powers.

Seaton & Weatherholt have sold to Alfred J. Miller fifty-five acres of land on the Beech Fork for the consideration of $225.

Misses Georgia and Mennie White are visiting in Louisville.

Mrs. J. M. Reynolds has been visiting in Louisville.

Miss Ida Jarrett, of Stephensport, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. R. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mattingly, of Owensboro, were visitors at the home of Mr. O. B. Mattingly.

HARDINSBURG.

Site For Fair Grounds Purchased. Newsy Letter From Our Neighboring Town.

HARDINSBURG, KY.—A meeting of the Board of Directors of The Breckinridge Fair Association was held here Monday. The farm of the Rev. W. H. Foreman, containing 105 acres and lying on the Louisville road, about one and one-fourth miles from the court house, was purchased for the Fair grounds. It is a fine site and is accessible from all roads. The price paid was $2,000. A part of the tract will be sold and there is a considerable body of timber on the land which can be utilized in the fencing and buildings, so that it will actually cost the company less than $1,000. It is admirably located with reference to the railroad, and a switch can be run into the grounds with very little expense.

The resignation of W. R. Moorman as director was tendered and accepted and W. J. Puggott, of Irvington, was elected to succeed him.

After appointing a few committees the Board adjourned to meet on Tuesday, February 19, next.

Dr. John E. Kinchloe is to go to Louisville to-day to attend a banquet given by the Physicians and Surgeons' Society. He will respond to the toast, "The Ethics of the Profession."

C. V. Robertson has purchased of the May heirs the lot at the west end of Second lot. The consideration is $275. Humphrey Marshall has purchased 120 acres of the Jacob Smith farm, lying near Glendale. Consideration, $1,400.

Mrs. Fannie Board, of Garfield, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Evans last week.

Jesse Brumington, of Sedwick, Kas., is at home on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Missouri Brumington. It has been seven years since he was here and he has had many improvements in the town and country.

W. S. Ball was in Louisville on a business trip last week.

Miss Mattie Reid was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gus D. Shelman Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Perry, of Cloverport, who has been visiting Col. and Mrs. D. R. Murray and other relatives, returned home Monday.

Preston Ford, of Louisville, visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Ford, several days of last week.

Mr. Kessinger, of Fordsville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guthrie last week.

Prof. Grant Peake, of Kingswood College, preached at the M. E. church Sunday night.

Blanche Reid returned home Saturday from a visit to relatives in Louisville.

Misses Margaret and Evelyn Beard, of Kingswood, spent Sunday at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wright, of Louisville, are the guests of Miss Tida Mercer.

W. D. Bland, of West Point, is here visiting friends.

Mrs. S. A. Pate and children, of West Point, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret May.

Dennie Mattingly has resigned his position with the Telephone Company. He will probably go to Louisville.

Arthur Scott has gone to Olatoma City, Okla., where he will engage in business with his brother, Charles Scott.

George Lyddan, of Irvington, was in town Monday, on a business trip.

Joseph Glascock was here Monday to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Breckinridge Fair Association.

H. B. Drake, of Irvington, has been appointed local manager for the Cumberland Telephone Company.

Percy M. Beard was in Owensboro last week on a business trip.

Lon Jarboe, of Kirk, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Sheeran Sunday.

Mrs. Mary C. Heston is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas, at Leitchfield.

C. V. Robertson went to Stanford to attend a stock sale.

Passed Cloverport

Treading the Waters.

Walking on the waters of the Ohio on his forty days' journey from Cincinnati to New Orleans Prof. Oldrieve passed Cloverport last Wednesday morning on his perilous undertaking. The greater portion of the town congregated on the river bank to witness this novel mode of traveling.

Prof. Oldrieve has wagered $5,000 that he will make the distance successfully within the time specified. Although several hours behind schedule times when he passed Cloverport he felt sure of the outcome, as the tide of the Mississippi, when he reached it, would carry him much faster.

Prof. Oldrieve was a large cedar boat and his movements are very similar to one skating.

Wants.

Advertisements inserted under this head at one cent a word per week.

FOR SALE—My stock of tinware and tinware. C. & L. Nippel, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—Pure bred Cloverport B. P. U. Cocker, three for $1.00. Write right away. Mrs. John Lyddan, West Point, Ky.

FOR SALE—One span three-year-old mare and colt, also one year-old mare and colt, good corn and seed oats. G. T. Hardin, Holt, Ky.

FOR SALE—40,000 feet walnut, oak and poplar lumber. H. A. T. Hays, West Point, Ky.

FOR SALE—One house and lot in Irvington, Ky. with out-pipe with cellar and a never-failing well. For particulars call on or address W. C. Hartaway, West Point, Ky.

FOR SALE—The World's Best Music in 5 volumes, containing a large amount of both instrumental and vocal music. For particulars call on or address W. C. Hartaway, West Point, Ky.

WANTED—By a prominent monthly magazine, with large, high-toned circulation, representative list in Cloverport and vicinity, on a salary basis, with reasonable interest in the work in the business created. Experience desirable, but not essential. Good opportunity for the right person. Address: Publisher, box 30, Station 11, of address, Ky. or Louisville, Ky.

WANTED—Ten men to sell fruit trees, cash in advance weekly. W. S. Ashby & Sons, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—A beautiful chocolate set, in green, for $1.00. For particulars, write to New office, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—A good sewing machine for $5.00. For particulars write to the following address: Box 90, Cloverport, Ky.

WANTED—Person at Glendale, Ky., to correspond for The Breckinridge News. Write to Managing Editor, News Office, Cloverport, Ky.

WANTED—COPPER—I want a family table made of good copper. Write at once. H. L. Bruner, Union Star, Kentucky.

FOR SALE—Three milch cows, one Jersey. Also two good work horses. Will sell cheap. Write to E. K. Ketchum, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—Pair of Ladies' Ball Bearing Skates—New Office, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—An "Ideal" cash register for sale. For particulars write to The Breckinridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—Horns, Addison Bros. & Wren, Cloverport, Ky.

WANTED—Gentleman or lady with good reference, to travel by rail or with rig, for a term of $250.00 capital. Salary $75.00 per year and expenses paid. Write weekly and experience advanced. Address with family, to A. A. Alexander, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—A tuition certificate in the Bowling Green Business College, Breckinridge, Ky.

FOR SALE—100 acres of land lying on the railroad near Kirk, 100 acres in meadow. Split up land for subjects. Write to H. L. Bruner, Union Star, Kentucky.

FOR SALE—Press and Cutting machine and one lot of new and second-hand machines. Also new and second-hand saws and gasoline engines. Write to G. T. Hardin, Holt, Ky.

BADLY INJURED

IN RUNAWAY

Julian H. Brown Had Miraculous

Escape From Death Last

Wednesday.

A runaway accident on last Wednesday just before noon came near causing the death of Mr. Julian H. Brown, a well-known young merchant and liverman of this city. He is now lying at his home suffering from severe injuries received in the accident.

Mr. Brown was driving a team of horses hitched to a light wagon and was returning from Tar Springs. In descending a steep hill about a mile from town one of the wagon wheels ran into a ditch and Mr. Brown was pitched forward between the horses. This frightened the animals and they began running. In the fall Mr. Brown's feet were tangled in the lines and single wheels. Unable to extricate himself he clung to the wagon pole with both arms and in this perilous position he was dragged for nearly a mile, his head being frequently dashed against rocks in the road and his body also received severe bruises and cuts.

On reaching O'Connell's store the horses were frightened into a telephone pole and brought to a standstill. Mr. Brown was carried into the store and medical aid summoned. It was at first thought that his injuries would prove fatal. A severe gash was cut in the back of his head and his forehead and body were badly injured. However, no bones were broken, and unless serious complications arise Mr. Brown will shortly recover.

APPEAL FOR AID

An appeal for aid has been sent out to this county by the Chairman of the Kentucky Finance Committee of the Jamestown Exposition for a contribution to further advertise Breckinridge county's resources.

There are few counties in the State that have the natural advantages and opportunities that Breckinridge county has become a leading factor in the State's march of progress, and to get the necessary influx of capital and labor for the proper development of her resources every means available to obtain this end should be used.

Breckinridge county's asphalt and limestone deposits and her timber and agricultural resources should not lack

MEET ME AT NOLTE'S.

Winter Isn't Over!

Old Crimp is just beginning to swoop down upon us with all the terror of a March wind or a February freeze.

Thank Goodness!

We are prepared for him. The winter's wind turned into spring's sunshine with goods from our store.

J. C. Nolte & Bro.

Cloverport, Ky.

YOU' CERTAINLY

must lie, if you do not see the advantage to be gained from the use of—

CADICK'S GOLD DUST FLOUR

Let us point out a few of them: It goes farther than any other brand of flour. It makes the most delicious baked stuff that flour can make. There are no failures where Cadick's Gold Dust is placed in the hands of a good cook—Think of that. We'll send you more next time.

MAKERS, Grandview, Ind.

Cadick Milling Co.,

the proper advertising that is due them by the citizens of the county.

To this end Breckinridge county is asked to contribute during the week beginning January 21 the sum of $205.41 for the advertising of the State's resources at the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. J. C. Nolte, secretary of the commercial club of Cloverport, has been appointed as vice-chairman of the Division of Finance for Breckinridge county, and the committee selected to solicit funds for the above cause is composed of the following gentlemen: Robert Pink, Cloverport; Roy Moorman, Hardinsburg; Dr. L. B. Moreman, Irvington; Roland Smith, Stephensport; Chas. Blanford, Bewleyville.

STEPHENS-PORT.

Miss Lena Payne was in Central City a few days last week to settle up her father's business.

Miss Jennie May Black, of Havesville, is here to spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. John Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robinson have rented rooms from Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Helm.

R. H. Bennett is sick at this writing.

A. T. Blaine is visiting his mother, Mrs. E. A. Blaine.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes, of Brandenburg, were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Dr. Nevelt last week.

Little Henry Nevitt has returned home after spending the holidays in Brandenburg.

Henry Plock has sold his farm and will move to Tell City in the near future.

Mrs. M. L. Roberts and Miss Pauline Moorman left Monday for Owensboro where they will join a party for a trip to Old Mexico.

Mrs. Floyd Miller and daughter, of Henderson, passed through town last week enroute to Cincinnati to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Allen.

Little Alice Louise Dix is on the sick list.

Miss Ida Jarrett is visiting relatives in Cloverport.

Mrs. Geo. Driscoll and daughter have returned from a visit to Louisville.

Miss Annie Dietman is on the sick list.

Small Boy Hurt.

Mike Tucker, the twelve-year old son of Mr. Nathaniel Tucker, of this city, received injuries on last Thursday by coming in contact with the steps to the caboose of a moving freight train.

The boy, with some companions, was walking beside the track when the train approached. It is presumed that in an attempt to hop the train he lost his footing and was thrown directly in front of the steps, which struck him in the head, rendering him unconscious. The injuries were slight and the boy is about well.

The Paint Season

Will soon be here. We are the Paint people. SEVERS DRUG CO.

DR. TAYLOR,

Representing

TAYLOR & KEENE,

DENTISTS

OF OWENSBORO.

Will be in Cloverport on date announced later

Remains Brought Here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mattingly died on last Saturday in Louisville at the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, where she had been staying for the past year or two.

Mrs. Mattingly was the widow of Mr. James Mattingly, who died many years ago, and was, before her removal to Louisville, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Cloverport.

She was sixty-two years of age and death was due to senility. Deceased was a consistent member of the Catholic church and her remains were conveyed here on Monday and interred in St. Rose's Catholic cemetery beside those of her husband. The funeral was from St. Rose Catholic church.

A daughter, Mrs. Henry Lewis, of this city, survives her.

Undergoes Operation.

Tom Ferry, a machinist at the railway shops at this place, was taken to Louisville on last Thursday where he underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Norton Infirmary. The operation was successful and the patient is convalescing.

EMERGENCY

CAMPAIGN.

Subscriptions for Kentucky--
Jamestown Movement Sought
From This Congressional District.

A herculean effort will be made during the week commencing Monday, Jan. 21, to complete the fund of $40,000 required to give Kentucky a proper representation at the Jamestown Exposition. The Exposition will open at Norfolk, Va., April 26, next, and promises to be one of the most interesting World's Fairs ever held. The Kentucky General Assembly failed to provide a fund for a State Building or a State Exhibit and the task must be carried out by the citizens of this Commonwealth. Members of the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission, of which Col. J. Stoddard Johnson is president, have been devoting their time and services gratuitously to this movement and now they call on the public spirited citizens of the State, arguing with considerable force that Kentucky's participation in the Exposition will be an assistance toward the general development of the State. It is further pointed out that Kentucky, recognized as the first and foremost daughter of Virginia, should, above all other states, have a place in this Exposition.

Believing that the public spirited citizens and business enterprises of Kentucky will not permit the State to go unrepresented, The Kentucky Commission has already secured an ideal site for a State Building and has begun the collection of the logs which will be used in a replica of the Fort of Boonesboro--Kentucky's proposed structure at the Fair. It is hoped to send to Jamestown on or about Feb. 1, the first shipment of logs for the building and exhibits from this State.

The week of Jan. 21, has been designated as "Kentucky-Jamestown Week." A personal canvass for funds will be made in every county of the State. An equitable division of the sum expected from the entire State has been made. Each county is requested to raise a sum amounting to 1 per cent. of the revenue turned over by the county to the State treasury for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. Each county in the State has much natural wealth and many possibilities to offer to outside investors, and it is felt that an exhibit and a State Building will attract attention to Kentucky and increase interest in her resources and possibilities.

For the counties of this Congressional district, vice-chairman of the Division of Finance have been nominated and the respective counties are asked to subscribe to the fund as follows:

Fourth District--Breckinridge, $203.41, Joel H. Plie, Hardinsburg, County chairman--Grayson, $116.22, Life Green, Falls of Rough, County Chairman--Hardin, $251.32, Prof. J. C.

Pilketon, Elizabethtown, County chairman--Meade, $151.91, Judge J. L. Harlan, Brandenburg, County chairman.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting--nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe Syrup called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by Nevins Drug Company.

Gillette's Blunder.

If Chester Gillette, charged with pushing "Billy" Brown into an Adirondack lake to get rid of her, is not dead to all the best and finest in womanly character, he must by this time realize that he threw away the love and lifelong devotion of a girl who, in any event, was much too good for him.

The letters from the girl published during his trial show a delicacy of feeling, a richness of character and a heart of pure devotion rare among women of his class. A factory girl though she was, and unlettered, the letters are of the best literary. That is, they are full of human feeling, expressed with pathetic, direct sympathy.

"I am about crazy now," she writes in one of her last letters. "I have been bidding good-bye to some places lately. There are so many nooks, dear, and all of them so dear to me. I have lived here nearly all my life. First, I said good-bye to the old springhouse, with the great masses of green moss; then the beehive, a cute little house in the orchard, and, of course, to all of the neighbors that have mentored my dress from a little tot up to save me thrashings I really deserved." She seemed to have a premonition of the end, a foreboding of disaster.

Gillette's sensibilities were too blunt, however, to appreciate the delicate refinement of the woman whose real character shines like light in this brief extract. She was a factory girl--good enough to play with, to dishonor, to kill, perhaps, if she grew troublesome, but not good enough to become his wife. As in so many other cases, he was not good enough for her. He missed the greatest blessing that can come to a man in this life, because he was not worthy of it. He was blind and knew it not, when he had it within his grasp.

It is a terrible lesson to all men, and women, too, for that matter. Social condition is no index to real character. Indeed, it often obscures the best and cloaks the worst--womanly and manly spirit. "Billy" Brown worked in a factory. But her letters, written without art, are the very best proof of her superiority to all conditions. The case is a reminder of the impulsive "Judge" not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgement," an injunction which any man or woman can heed who is not so blinded by fear and social prejudice that he can not distinguish appearance from right truth--St. Louis Post Dispatch.

HARGIS TRIAL STOPPED

Writ of Prohibition Issued by the Court of Appeals.

CHARGES AGAINST THE JUDGE

Alleged He is Conducting the Case in an Arbitrary Manner and is Overstepping the Bounds of Law--Excitement Subside at Jackson. Prosecution Elated.

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 11.--The trial of Judge James Hargis on the charge of participating in the assassination of D. B. Cox in this city, three years ago, was suddenly postponed here as the result of a writ of prohibition issued by the court of appeals of Kentucky.

The writ was granted upon the application of Attorney General N. B. Hays and James B. Adams, commonwealth's attorney for the Second judicial district. The petitioners alleged that Special Judge William Carnes of Williamson, who was appointed by Governor Beckham to try the case of Judge Hargis and charges charged with the assassination of Dr. Cox, in conducting the trial in an arbitrary manner and is overstepping the bounds of the law.

The principal objection to Judge Carnes was his ruling that temporarily suspended Sheriff Brock Crawford and the naming of Robin Burton as juror. The petitioners alleged that Judge Carnes has directed the juror to summon bystanders for the jury, which is in violation of a statute passed at the last session of the legislature.

The writ of prohibition has wrought a great change in the feeling of the people of this city. Judge Carnes said that he thought the writ could be dismissed on a demurrer, which he would file when he reached Frankfort. The excitement has subsided and the town is almost deserted.

Judge Hargis appears to be bewildered by the writ. It is the hardest blow that has come to him in any of his trials, and the prosecution is much elated.

Judge Carnes had wired Governor Beckham asking that 50 soldiers be sent to guard him against assassination, as his life is in danger. Civil authorities, he says, are powerless to protect him. The little city, which has been the scene of much turbulence and bloodshed in the past few years, is intensely excited over a condition bordering on a reign of terror. It is a result of the same cause which brought about all previous troubles--the feud between the Hargis faction and their opponents. The jury in the case has not been selected, as it has been found impossible to secure 12 men from Breckinridge county who are not afraid to pass judgment on their fellow townsman and most powerful citizen. The people of Jackson want the case moved from Jackson as far as possible.

FATALITIES

That Attended the Explosion at Jones & Laughlin Furnace.

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.--Partial investigation to ascertain the number of fatalities that occurred at the blast furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company when an accumulation of gas exploded, bursting the base of the large furnaces and blowing tons of molten metal over about 40 men who were employed there. The investigation is completed, and shows that the bodies of 12 men horribly mutilated have been recovered; from 15 to 20 men are missing. It being generally believed their bodies were consumed by the hot metal, and 10 men are in hospitals terribly burned. Four of whom are expected to die momentarily. It is doubtful whether the number of men killed will be ever known. From present indications over 15 men were caught like rats in a trap by the molten metal, which flowed over their bodies to a depth of six feet. No trace of them, it is said, will ever be found.

Negro Soldiers in Philippines.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 9.--Women of the Cincinnati W. T. U. will be asked to issue a protest against the removal of the colored troops of the United States army to the Philippines. At the head of this movement is Miss Mary Reick, leader of the purity section of Christian Temperance work. The matter will be brought before the union at its next meeting. The native women of the Philippines, Miss Reick declares, are entitled to the same protection as the women living in the states at home.

Harriman Recovers.

New York, Jan. 8.--E. H. Harriman gave personal assurance that he was not seriously ill. He said: "I underwent an unromantic little operation recently, but it was not of any consequence. I hear there have been reports of my sickness, though I have not read the newspapers. I expect to go out at once." Mr. Harriman refused to discuss the intricate commerce commission's investigation of the railroads in which he is interested.

Outraged by Negro.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 9.--Miss Gladys Shelton, 17, daughter of a well-to-do farmer near Monroe, Amherst county, was outraged by a negro. The negro then took the girl to a creek to drown her. He changed his mind and made her go to a neighbor's home, while he went in another direction. Five negroes were arrested and brought here, a mob of 75 men chasing Sheriff Board and a deputy for two miles. The girl's condition is precarious, but she will recover.

Widow Gov. Hoadly's Daughter.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 9.--Mrs. Johnson, the widow of Dr. Philip Edward Johnson, who was killed in Portland, Ore., is the only daughter of the late ex-Governor Hoadly of Ohio. She was born and spent her early life in Cincinnati. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Laura Hoadly. Some 10 years ago Mrs. Johnson, then Miss Hoadly, removed with her father to New York city, and has since made that place her home until her marriage with Dr. Johnson last October. The couple removed later to Portland, Ore. Dr. Johnson's body was found beneath a railroad bridge. It is believed he was the victim of thugs. Johnson's father is Episcopal archdeacon of Staten Island, N. Y.

Succeeded McCrea.

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.--At a meeting of the directors of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus railroad, held here, the resignation of James McCrea as president was accepted and Joseph Wood, the new first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, was elected in his stead. Daniel T. McCabe was elected a director.

Wilson to Retire.

Washington, Jan. 10.--It is reported that Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture will retire from the cabinet March 4, when Secretary Shaw and Hitchcock go out. The president, it is asserted, has selected Gifford Pinchot, now chief of the bureau of forestry, to succeed Wilson. Pinchot is from New York.

To Succeed Alger.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 11.--Congressman William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids was nominated to succeed United States Senator Russell A. Alger. As there are only half a dozen Democrats in the state legislature, nomination by the Republican caucus is equivalent to an election.

All the good qualities of Ely's Cream Hair solid, are found in Liquid Cream Hair, which is intended for use in atomizers. That it is an unfailing cure for Nasal Catarrh is proved by an ever-increasing mass of testimony. It does not dry out nor rasp the tender air-passages. It allays the inflammation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obsolete old cases have been cured in a few weeks. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

IN PEACON

Italians Claim to Have Been Held in West Virginia Camps.

Washington, Jan. 9.--Claiming that they had been held practically in peacocks in a West Virginia lumber camp, a group of Italians passed through this city bound for Hoboken, N. J. The workmen claim that wages are due them from Breckinridge county and legal steps through the Italian ambassador to obtain what is coming to them. According to their story the men were sent to West Virginia last November through a labor agent in Hoboken. On arriving at the camp, 18 miles from Prince, W. Va., they found that they were expected to do blasting. The men protested and started to walk back when they claim they were rounded up by 12 armed men, who called themselves deputy sheriffs, and held them in a lumber camp for several days in a box car. For the first five days they had only bread and water and for two days they had no food at all. They were then compelled to work, but sufficient funds were raised for nine of them to buy their release and permit them to return to Hoboken.

To stop a Cold with "Preventives" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "menstrue stage" Preventives will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventives are little toothsome candy color boxes, each selling 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventives. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by Nevins Drug Company.

Fayne Gilman Held.

Dayton, O., Jan. 8.--Fayne Gilman, sister of Dona, was arrested on an affidavit sworn out by Constable Hancock of Marietta Markley's court, charging her with complicity in the murder of her sister. It is asserted that Constable William Steinmann of Cincinnati, who has been investigating the murder, is back of the arrest. Mrs. Lash Gilman and her son Collins are also awaiting grand jury action, having been bound over on the charge of complicity in the death of the girl. The grand jury began an investigation of the case. Coroner Kline gave out his verdict, and it is held to his first conclusion that the crime was committed by Dave Curtis, the half-witted newsboy, who confessed and later recanted his confession, and who was forced to make it by the police. Curtis was released. The coroner's finding exonerates all members of the family from complicity in the crime.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

The News, one year, one dollar.

W. H. BOWMAN, President.
F. L. LIGHTFOOT, Vice-President.
A. B. REILMAN Cashier,
CHAS. REILMAN, Asst.-Cashier.

The Old Reliable

BRECKINRIDGE BANK,

Organized 1872. Capital and Surplus $52,000.00.
Insured in every way, and protected by the very latest equipment.
Interest paid on time deposits.
Business great and small solicited.

Beautiful Complexions.

Return this with 50 one-cent stamps or 25 one-cent stamps with the names and addresses of twenty ladies and learn how to have a lovely natural color as long as you live. This method is now being revealed for the first time to the general public. There are no cosmetics, bleaches, face powders, or other poisons in this. Pimples, blackheads and discolorations disappear forever under this method. Women and girls who wish to be beautiful will be taught the simple laws of beauty, and they will learn how the most beautiful women in Paris, guided and controlled by Master Gypsy and Greek mimes, appeared upon the scene, played the game of life and carried everything before them with their bright eyes and unrivaled complexions.

L. J. MOCKLEY, 1133 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

First State Bank,

IRVINGTON, KY.

W. J. PIGGOTT, President, JOHN R. WIMP, Vice-President
J. H. KEMPER, Cashier.

Accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals solicited.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

From Isaac Shelby to J. C. W. Beckham
ALL OF
KENTUCKY'S GOVERNORS
FREE The First Time Their Pictures Have Ever Been Published. FREE

The Evening Post has for several years endeavored to secure pictures of all Kentucky Governors and has at last succeeded in securing them through the assistance of the Kentucky State Historical Society.
In order to place these pictures in a permanent form, they have been arranged in a group in an up-to-date Atlas showing Kentucky with the later census, pictures of all the past and present Governors, and pages of all nations, statehood routes, statistical data, history of the Kentucky-Japan War, also maps of the United States, and much other historical information.
This unique and valuable Atlas is FREE to ALL EVENING POST SUBSCRIBERS. If not now a subscriber send $2.00 for a full year's subscription by mail or $3.00 for six months' subscription. Understand that these rates are by mail only and that the subscription price by express or agent is $4.00 per week.
The Evening Post publishes six or more editions daily and the latest edition is sent to each reader according to the time that it will reach them.
The Evening Post is first in everything and has the most state news and best market reports.
For all the people and against the grafter.
Independent always.
For the Home.
The Evening Post, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Special Price on Chart and Evening Post with this Paper

AT THE NEWS OFFICE.

Webster's International Dictionary, with a supplement of additional words and meanings $10.00
Eastman Kodak, No. 3 Series. Price 19.00
Sanford's Premium Writing Fluid for fountain pens, per pint 50
Writing and Copying Combined Fluid, per pint 50
Sandford's Library Paste.
Ledgers, Note-Books, Blank Deeds and Mortgages, Memorandum Books.
School Supplies, Business and Social Stationery.
Monogram Stationery, Printed Letter Heads and Envelopes.
Printed and Engraved Business Cards.
Daily Papers, Magazines and Novels.
Souvenir Post Cards.

For Sale at the

NEWS OFFICE.

THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's Ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.
No other medicine has such a record of cures of female illnesses or such hosts of grateful friends as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing all forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.
It has cured cases of Backache and Local Weakness, as well as any other remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development. Irregularities and periodical pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to its also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme "laetude," "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues". These are indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the organs, which this medicine cures as well as Chronic Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex.
Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want--a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

